clothing without compromise.

When designing its performance clothing range Pace demands the same high levels of performance as it does from its state-of-the-art hardware range. A no-compromise approach to product design where a commitment to flawless function and innovative style is then incorporated with only the very best materials.

We guarantee that our latest winterware range will perform and protect through the harshest cycling environment, and as the weather improves your choice increases. An extensive range of Raceware base, mid and outer layers, all produced in high performance fabrics, means you can perfectly tailor yourself for any ride or race. And when its time to chill, check out the Pace leisureware range, from ultra baggy shorts through to chunky fleece jackets - quality is assured by the name.

Raceware represents the cutting edge of performance mountain biking clothing and you can't create the best by compromising. That's why we produce completely separate ranges cut and designed specifically for men and women. With the ultra wicking mesh base, Fieldsensor™ jersey and shorts and Coolmax™ tights, you'll be cool and dry however heated the competition gets.

Pace and the Millennium Dome

Pace high performance machines have the distinction of being the only mountain bikes chosen for exhibition in the Millennium Dome, Greenwich, London.

Open for 365 days from 1st January 2000

Visit our page on the Millennium Dome 'Journey Zone' website- www.journey.ford.co.uk

Forest Trails

Pace have long been committed to the development of mountain biking recreation and sport. Working in partnership with Forest Enterprise there are now waymarked trails using the Pace Grading System throughout many of the beautiful forests of the North York Moors National Park- the largest expanse of heather moorland in Europe. Fully supported with trail head route guides and full colour maps, further information is also available from: Forest Enterprise, Telephone: 01751 472771 / 473810.
